

Bobcat Habitat Suitability

Legend

Final Suitability

Regions

This map is depicting the viable habitats for Bobcats in Vermont, based on a variety of qualifying factors such as access to food sources, minimal human contact, nearby water sources, and suitable habitat that includes ledges. Given all of these factors, several regions were identified that meet all of these requirements.